Collection 2025

Certified

Corporation

Dear reader,

We are proud to present the latest Mepal catalogue, showcasing a collection of innovative, stylish and sustainable products designed to make everyday life easier and more enjoyable. In 2025, Mepal will celebrate its 75th anniversary, reaffirming its status as a forward-thinking brand where the highest quality meets innovative Dutch design. In other words: Simply Special.

Our products are built to last and are locally produced in the Netherlands by people who face barriers to the employment market. These core values make us unique and earned Mepal the prestigious B Corp certification in recognition of our commitment to sustainability and social entrepreneurship.

This year, we are proud to expand our range with three striking collections: the Active bottles line, designed for a variety of sports and outdoor activities; Chef It, a range of accessories for cooking and baking that will inspire every home cook; and an expansion of our popular Mepal Mio collection that adds new products for babies and toddlers. Each of these lines offers smart, stylish solutions that guarantee quality and ease of use.

Our refreshed collection also includes innovative additions, such as an improved insulated range and a larger bento lunch box for children. New, exciting prints and colours have been added to the Campus range to complete the collection.

All of us at Mepal remain committed to innovating and standing out over the next 75 years by continuing to create useful, thoughtfully designed products that make a difference. Our heritage is something we cherish, and together, we will build on it for the future. Thank you for your ongoing trust and the partnership we share – together, we're making a difference!

Sincerely,

Jan Pieter Schretlen

DESIGN STORY | CHEF IT

"There's something so playful about cooking and baking," says our designer Marleen, smiling. "You're working with your hands, feeling the ingredients, stirring, scooping, rolling, kneading... I wanted to capture that sense of playfulness in the design of these products. I started with the mixing bowl. It's a cheerful, chunky little kitchen helper that's soft to the touch and nice to hold."

The bowl that formed the starting point for the rest of the line has lots of clever details. "The two anti-slip feet and a rounded base give it stability, and the open handle stops water from getting trapped when it's upside down in the dishwasher."

|| These little details can make a big difference – who wants to splash water on their trousers when they're unloading the dishwasher?

The lid has also been carefully thought out. It has a splash guard, and a separate small bowl that can be used to weigh ingredients or rest a sticky spatula on. The entire lid forms an airtight seal over the bowl. Every feature was carefully designed with a clear purpose."

"We chose durable materials and made the separate parts replaceable. When people are really happy with a product and realise it removes annoying inconveniences, they tend to use it for longer. For me, that's the core of sustainable design."

In addition to functionality and sustainability, user feedback is an invaluable source of inspiration. "Mepal products have a distinctive, identifiable look. The shapes and colours are recognisable without feeling gimmicky. We follow colour trends but always make sure new colours complement our existing products. We chose Coral as the highlight colour of this range to make it pop and add extra flair."

By putting these thoughtful details at the heart of our design process, we make products that do more than make life simpler – they make it brighter, too!

Chef It mixing bowl

The Chef It mixing bowl makes every mixing task a breeze

Its non-slip base keeps it firmly in place, even when you're using a hand mixer on the highest speed. The comfy handle feels just right in your hand, so you can mix up your favourite batters with ease.

The 3-litre bowl has an anti-splash lid to keep the batter in the bowl. The small bowl in the lid creates a perfect seal, so you can cover your mix and store it in the fridge for later. You can also use the small bowl to rest your spatula on or set aside ingredients to add later. The mixing bowl is made from a high-quality material that's microwave safe and can handle temperatures of up to 110°C.

Time to wash up? Just put the bowl upside-down in the dishwasher. A clever gap in the base stops water from getting trapped, so you can be sure it's really clean, ready for the next baking session!

DESIGN STORY | ACTIVE

“While exercising, a bottle needs to fit comfortably in your hand,” David begins. “Many designers try to solve this with technical or generic details, but I wanted a design that approaches this in a simple yet recognisable way. A bottle that not only feels good to hold but also reflects that in its shape.”

This principle is evident throughout the entire collection. “What I find remarkable is that the components are interchangeable. You can adjust the colour, size, and functionality to suit your own use and style. Additionally, the bottles can be completely disassembled, making them very easy to clean. The unique shape ensures that even the larger bottles are comfortable to hold. For the shaker bottle, we’ve developed a side closure so it doesn’t get in the way while drinking. It’s those kinds of details that make all the difference.”

Sustainability is a key pillar of the design. “The bottles are sturdy and have no fragile details, which makes them highly durable. Parts that do wear out are easy to replace, allowing the bottle to last for years. This is not just practical but also a conscious choice to contribute to a more sustainable lifestyle.”

Recognisability and simplicity form the foundation of the design process.

■ ■ For me, it starts with critically assessing what you’re really trying to solve. Is every addition necessary, or could it be simpler?

“By continually zooming in and out, you ensure that the design is not only functional but also fits seamlessly into Mepal’s broader vision. Ultimately, I want to create a solution that feels logical and distinctive in all its simplicity.”

For children

No matter how big or small your children are, Mepal's Mio and Campus products are designed to help them do things for themselves. They've been thoughtfully designed for little hands – so the grown-ups can keep their own hands free! Perfect on the go, at the playground, on holiday, at school or around the kitchen table. All Mepal's plates, cups, lunch boxes and drinks bottles are virtually indestructible and come in bright colours with fun prints. They're sure to put a smile on everyone's face.

DESIGN STORY | MEPAL MIO

"When I'm designing our products, I think carefully about the users – including babies and toddlers," says Jelmer. "Children deserve products that work exactly as they should and last for years. Simple and uncluttered works best. That's why I use friendly-looking, consistent shapes that convey a sense of calm and quality."

This results in a product line that creates a strong, unified impression.

|| The design style and sense of quality come together in all our products.

The placemat, for example, is both a placemat and a tray – just a little bit different, but it makes perfect sense when you use it. The Snack & Stack is one of my favourites. You can stack these containers and take them with you. The way the containers connect looks simple, but getting it right was a real challenge for our engineers. That makes it even more of a stand-out product."

Recognisability and simplicity are key Mepal characteristics. "We try to capture the essence of a product in just a few basic shapes. It gives the design a calm, uncluttered look and ensures it stands out next to our competitors' products. At Mepal, we call complicated products 'fabriekjes' – mass-produced and over-engineered with too many parts. More parts often means more likely to cause frustration: things break, get lost or are difficult to clean. We prefer to keep things simple. The trick is to make a product with the fewest possible components that works perfectly and is easy to use for everyone."

User feedback is an important part of the process. "My colleagues and I often use our own children as guinea pigs. We make a point of testing prototypes thoroughly because our own assumptions can be wrong. The feedback we get often surprises me, and that helps to improve the products. What I like about food-related products is that they have a rich history. At the same time, contemporary culture strongly influences what people like. For example, German consumer feedback is totally different from the feedback we get in the Netherlands. That keeps my job as a designer challenging and interesting."

Unique designs for every child

Tigers for little adventurers, horses for sporty animal lovers, and the very youngest? They experience adventures with the animals on the farm. At home, at school or on the road. Mepal has a favourite for every child. Make the lunch set complete with the new fruit boxes with matching decors! With a set like this, surely all the sandwiches and healthy snacks will be devoured by the end of the day.

A cheerful Food Fest print for foodies, ocean animals for adventurers or radiant unicorns for little dreamers. There is a favourite for every child! Everything is easy to open and close by children and all bottles are, of course, leakproof. With such a cheerful and complete lunch set, every lunch will be a party, and it is certain that all sandwiches and pieces of fruit will be gone by the end of the day.
